

Forest School / Outdoor Learning Leader

EcoWild works across rural B&NES to engage local people with their living environment, for the health and flourishing of both. We are looking for the person who will thrive leading sessions with our well established relationships in outdoor learning, nature and health. This post is initially for 1.5 school days a week during the academic year, working in primary schools, with potential for running woodland holiday sessions and parties outside of these. We also run adult health and wellbeing sessions and welcome people with an interest in both areas of practice.

Pay: £100-120/ day. Option to be self-employed or PAYE. Rate quoted is self-employed.

essential;

Positive, resilient, creative and fun

Strong outdoor skills in all seasons; i.e. Fire, bush craft, shelter creation, knife & tool work

Forest school, Bushcraft, IOL or similar qualification

Knowledge of native wildlife, plant and flower ID

Experience facilitating groups of adults and children

Professional, reliable and considerate

Ability to lead and plan sessions, take the initiative and instigate new developments

IT proficiency

First aid qualified (ideally outdoor)

Wish to work outdoors all year round

Ability to work term-time hours with hours by arrangement in schools holidays desirable;

Skills in natural & arts crafts, foraging, self-sufficiency

Experience in nature based health and wellbeing delivery

Experience in Health care including mental health

Experience of running a social enterprise

Experience of statutory/ third sector partnerships

Editing and design skills for posters / fliers

Social media, advertising and communications expertise

Ideally you will live to the south of Bristol/ west of Bath, for ease of travel to sites sometimes for short sessions.

Please apply with application form: <https://ecowild.org.uk/about-ecowild/jobs/>