

Job Description

Forest School / Outdoor learning Assistant

EcoWild works across rural B&NES to engage local people with their living environment, for the health and flourishing of both. We are looking for the person who will thrive leading sessions with our well established relationships in outdoor learning, nature and health. This post is for 2.5 school days a week during the academic year, working in primary schools, with potential for running woodland holiday sessions and parties outside of these. We also run adult health and wellbeing sessions and welcome people with an interest in both areas of practice.

Pay: £85-£100/ day - option to be PAYE or self employed. Rate quoted is self employed.

essential;

Positive, resilient, creative and fun

Outdoor skills in all seasons; i.e. Fire, bush craft, shelter creation, knife & tool work, nature connection games

Forest school, Bushcraft, IOL or similar qualification

Knowledge of native wildlife, plant and flower ID

Some experience with groups of adults and children

Professional, reliable and considerate

Ability to contribute ideas to sessions, take the initiative and instigate new developments

First aid qualified (ideally outdoor)

Wish to work outdoors all year round

Ability to work term-time hours with hours by arrangement in school holidays desirable;

Skills in natural & arts crafts, foraging, self-sufficiency

Interest in nature based health and wellbeing delivery

Social media, advertising and communications expertise

Ideally you will live to the south of Bristol/ west of Bath, for ease of travel to sites sometimes for short sessions.

Please apply with application form: <https://ecowild.org.uk/about-ecowild/jobs/>